WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 4.

MORGANATIC MARRIAGES.-Morganatic marriages are quite common among the princes of German royal families. These are legitimate marriages between members of noble families and women or an inferior condition, and which do not confer on the children issuing from them a right to the rank and title of the father. Among those who have formed such unions in Europe, may be noted Victor Emmanuel and the Countess Mirafiori; Frederick William III, father of the present Emperor of Germany, with the Countess Harrack, who still lives; Leopold I, late King of the Belgians, with the Baroness Mayer; Prince Albert, of Prussia, brother of the Emperor William, of Germany, with the Countess de Hohenan; and Prince Adalbert, of Prussia, with Theresa de Barnim,

CORN AS FUEL. - In our last number we noted that in Iowa, corn was used as fuel. In Nebraska, it is also used. A letter before us. from Westpoint, Nebraska, under date of the 14th ultimo, says: "We are burning corn in our stove in place of coal and wood. This would seem funny to you, I know. if you were here. When I first commenced using it, 1 | $125 and $150. felt as though I was doing something wrong every time I put it in the stove, but have gotten used to it now. We pay from thirteen to fourteen cents per bushel for corn, and at that price it is as cheap as coal and cheaper than wood." Corn, it is said, makes a very hot fire, is easily lighted, will last as long as soft coal and is much cleaner for use. - Exchange.

How a BAD HABIT STICKS. - When the epizootic first broke out in Chicago an expressman bought a horse badly affected with the distemper. He got him for eighty-nine dollars, and began to dose him with a pint of gin and ginger twice a day. The stimulant kept up the spirits of the animal so that he worked all the time, and in less than a week earned one hundred and twenty two dollars. Unfortunately, the horse has acquired a taste for intoxicating liquor, and cannot do without it now. He smells it as he passes by saloons, and insists upon stopping; neither will he eat his food unless it is thus seasoned.

SPECIAL NOTICES. Living Advertisements.

A medicine that has done more than all the prescriptions of the pharmacopola to protect the human system against the bodily ills superinduced by unhealthy surroundings, is certainly worthy of universal confidence. It is mainly on account of its extraordinary preventive properties that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is so exceedingly popular in localties subject to the visitation of miasmatic fevers and other diseases produced by empoisoned air. A family that has escaped sickness during a sickly season in consequence of using the Bitters as a safeguard, is a living advertisement of the virtues of the preparation. The whole neighborhood realize the fact. "I couldn't have believed it," says one. "I scarcely credited the advertisements; but one must believe what one sees," says another. "It is the very thing we need in this unwholesome section of country," remarks a third. And the result is that the instinct of self-defence, the first law of nature, induces three-fourths of that com-munity to obtain a supply of the great vegetable antidote before the next sickly season sets in. In winter, when the system requires extra vigor and elasticity to enable it to builte the effects of damp and cold, the Bitters will be found particularly serviceable. Rheumatism will not be apt out 25 WITMER & SLAYMAKER. ular y serviceable. Rheumatism will not be apt to fasten upon muscles and nerves that have been braced up by this excellent invigorant and nervine; nor will the severities of the season, which have such a disastrous effect on the pulmonary organs of the feeble and delicate, be likely to exercise the same untoward influence in cases where the stomach and the external surface of the body (which always sympathizes with the digestive organs) have been toned and stimulated by a course of the restorative. The fits of indigestion and irregularities of the bowels which proceed from sudden changes of weather may always be averted by a timely use of the Bitters. use of the Bitters.

It Acts Like a Charm.

This is what we hear on all sides of Dr. Tutt's Expectorant. In cases of Croup, Bronch tis, Asthma and all diseases it affords instant relief. It permeates the very substance of the lungs and causes them to throw off all acrid matter. It is very pleasant to the taste. Children take it

Dr. Wm. H. Tutt: Sir—When in Aiken, last winter, 1 used your Expectorant for my cough, and found more benefit from it than any I have used.
